In the reference of the poem 'Fire and Ice' the poet suggests that both Fire and Ice are capable of ending the world. Here, the 'Fire' stands for the 'desire' and 'Ice' stands for 'Hatred'. Poet says that he takes the side of the fire, as the desire and the greed of the person is causing the overexploitation of available resources on earth. He also says that if the world has to destroy twice then Ice could destroy it. Because Hatred from each other is the main cause of wars.
